WATSEKA, ILL., July 13.—Idolization of his daughter, Golda, seven years old, is said to have caused J. B. Sawyer, vice-president of the First National Bank of Crescent City, Ill., to suffer in silence the domestic tragedy that led to his death on Sunday night at the hands of Dr. W. R. Miller, who for many months had paid ardent attention to the banker's wife.

According to W. R. Nightingale, cashier of the bank of which Mr. Sawyer was vice-president, the devoted father determined to endure anything rather than take action that would involve his child in notoriety.

Constantly Feared Trouble.

"He seemed to fear some tragic solution of the situation," said Mr. Nightingale to-day. "Whenever he left the city during the last year or so it was his habit to seek privacy, after which he would reappear with a bulky envelope containing papers.

"Should anything happen to me," he always told me, open this packet and follow to the letter the instructions contained therein."

"After each trip but the last, he destroyed the papers upon his return. He was away a little while ago, but when he came back he failed to follow this practice.

"That packet, I believe, is locked in his private box in the bank's vault. Whether it will shed any light on the tragedy which ended his life, I cannot say. The coroner has the key, and will open the box, possibly after the funeral tomorrow.

Threatened Lynching.

That Dr. Miller stood in real danger of lynching last night is asserted by Mr. Nightingale and many others. More than a hundred men thronged the streets of the city, and the doctor, trying to organize an attack on the jail. One man with a rope was forcibly taken to his home by cooler persons, whose counsel finally prevailed. Among the latter was Willis Sawyer, a brother of the slain man.

Dr. Miller's defense is that he shot only when attacked by the banker with a hatchet. Evidence casting a shadow on this statement was given at the inquest.

Refused to Play with Them.

Sawyer was slain about 10 o'clock on Sunday night. Mrs. Miller, wife of the doctor, had left her home and taken to come in and play cards, the two against Dr. Miller and Mrs. Sawyer. Mr. Sawyer declined somewhat sharply. His refusal, Mrs. Sawyer states, was due to his belief that she and the doctor would succeed at the game by a system of tell-tale.

Tell-Tale Fifth Shell.

Grace Davis and other girls and Godfrey Ruhe stopped to chat for a moment with Mr. Sawyer at the front gate just a few minutes before he was slain. He was in a good humor. They had left Sawyer and his wife at the door, and he had heard the fatal shots.

Three bullets were found in the banker's body and one in the wall. A fifth bullet was located to-day, imbedded in an outside wall. The slaying occurred in the house, but this fifth empty shell, still lying in the yard, was found in the lawn. This fact is connected by the State's attorney with a wound in Dr. Miller's right wrist.

The doctor's explanation of his damaged wrist is that he was shot by his own pistol during a struggle with Mr. Sawyer. The discovery of a fifth empty shell, however, has opened up a line of inquiry to which the State attaches much importance. After the shooting of Sawyer Dr. Miller was alone with the body for a time while the others went for assistance. When they returned he was on the porch complaining of his wounded wrist.

Wife's Concern for Doctor Only.

The struggle in the house was witnessed by John Grunder. He declares that Sawyer brought a hatchet into the house with him. Mrs. Sawyer says her husband came in unarmed and took the hatchet from under a couch. Edward Blanton, a laborer; Dietrich H. Myer, a retired merchant; and Edward E. Myer, president of the village of Crescent City, assert that they examined the room thoroughly right after the shooting, but saw no hatchet.

Mrs. Sawyer is said to have betrayed no concern over the disposition of her husband's body, which lay on the floor where it fell, but to have expressed great solicitude over the doctor's wounded wrist.

All in Jail.

Dr. Miller and Mrs. Sawyer are in separate cells at the jail. The doctor is held on a charge of murder. Mrs. Sawyer and her father and brother are in custody as alleged accessories.

Although fear of mob violence is no longer, Sheriff Helges placed two extra guards at the jail tonight.

Cotton Sold.

SAMMIS RULES ELKS

Situation of Home at Bedford City Condemned in Hollars' Report.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 13.—Detroit was selected by acclamation as the meeting place of the Grand Lodge of Elks in 1910. St. Louis and Portland, Oregon, practically withdrew.

J. U. Sammis, of Lemars, Iowa, was elected grand exalted ruler over Gary Herrman, of Cincinnati. The ballot was extremely close, Sammis receiving 523 votes and Herrman 520. The chief contest of the session was over this election.

In a statement regarding the publication of a report on the situation of the Elks at Bedford City, present grand exalted ruler, complained that unfairness had been shown in the selection of only such portions of it as made it appear that he had indulged the candidacy of Sammis.

The only other light was over the office of grand exalted lecturing knight, Harry Walter, of Philadelphia, Secretary, D. Jones, of Seattle. Other officers were elected as follows: Leading Knight, Warren G. Sayres, of Kansas; Secretary, Fred E. Ineson, Dubuque, Iowa; Treasurer, Ed. W. Leach, New York; Trustee, Perry A. Clay, Denver; Tyler, Charles L. Dickert, Bonita, Minn.; Guard, A. M. Taylor, St. Augustine, Fla.

The balloting for grand exalted loyal knight resulted in no election. Another vote will be taken to-morrow.

In the annual report of Grand Exalted Ruler Holland, the question of establishing an orphanage for children of deceased Elks is submitted to the Grand Lodge without recommendation.

At the present session, the Elks of Bedford City, present Elks, were condemned by the grand exalted ruler, who suggested that a new home be built in some other city.

He also suggested that the Elks of Bedford City be expelled from the order for the use of membership in the Elks order for pleasure and urges the expulsion of any one so abusing his membership.

MAY HAVE OPEN SESSIONS

Widespread Interest in Sutton Case May Necessitate Public Hearings.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—Whether the proceedings of the court of inquiry which will investigate the circumstances connected with the death of Lieutenant James N. Sutton, of Annapolis in 1907, will be open to the public or will be held in secret will be determined to-morrow by Assistant Secretary Winthrop, of the Navy Department.

Ordinarily matters of this kind are left to the discretion of the court, but there has been such widespread interest in the case that the matter has been brought to the attention of the assistant secretary. If the sessions are open the purpose will be to satisfy the public concerning the facts in the case.

May Summon Civilians.

ANNAPOPOLIS, MD., July 13.—Announcement was made at the office of the assistant secretary of the Naval Academy, to-day that Major Harry Leonard, U. S. M. C. would act as the judge advocate of the second court of inquiry which will try to straighten out the tangle of conflicting testimony surrounding the death of Lieutenant Sutton.

Major Leonard, it had been previously understood, would act as the recorder of the court. As the prosecuting officer in the case, it will devolve upon Major Leonard to summon all witnesses who may be desired. He is now on duty at the naval prison at Portsmouth.

Neither William Owens, the Annapolis chauffeur, who took out the officers involved in the affair which resulted in the death of Sutton, nor Undertaker Taylor, who prepared the body for burial, will be called to testify. He said he saw the body, but has not yet received a subpoena.

As a general court, the second board, it is now stated, will have full authority to summon civilians as well as naval men.

New Version of Shooting.

"Lieutenant Sutton did not try to shoot his way out of a man who was at the back of his neck, holding his head to the ground," this explanation of the first court's verdict of the affair, as I believe the new board will agree.

This is the version of the shooting given to-day by an officer of high rank who had much to do with the first investigation and who will be an important witness in the coming investigation.

There are said to be many other officers who share this view and who believe that the first court's verdict will be changed by the second court to one of death by accidental shooting.

Had $20,000 Insurance.

It is said to-day that the lieutenant had a palatial operation performed on his nose prior to the fatal night, and that the fact that a blow struck by a sailor had caused the member infuriated Sutton.

By two insurance men, the statement was made that the lieutenant carried $20,000 insurance on his life, the policy having been written less than a year prior to his death. Both the insurance companies had declared a suicide would invalidate this insurance. This, it is suggested, may in some way have been connected with the strong efforts that have been put forth to have the case reopened and the suicide record wiped out.

LYNCH ON WITNESS STAND

Head of International Typographical Union Testifies in Hudspeth Case.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., July 13.—President James A. Lynch, of the International Typographical Union, testified to-day in the Commercial District Court here in the trial of Henry Hudspeth, charged with the murder of a New Orleans Typographical Union member.

Hudspeth is charged with securing money and other assistance from both the local and the international union. He was a candidate against Lynch for the presidency of the international union, and the latter, it is alleged, gave facts concerning the methods of making assessments and gathering funds from the local unions.

FLOODS SUBSIDING

Swollen Rivers Begin to Fall and Train Service Is Resumed.

KANSAS CITY, MO., July 13.—That the Kansas and Missouri rivers are beginning to subside is the assurance given by reports from all affected points to-night. Both the Kansas and Missouri rivers began falling at Kansas City to-night, and this is taken to indicate that the back waters will rapidly recede and the rivers will be almost back to normal conditions.

Storm in Alabama.

ANNISTON, ALA., July 13.—A terrible electric storm accompanied by a heavy rain, passed over this city to-night, the wind reaching a velocity of forty miles an hour. More than an inch of rain fell within fifteen minutes. The trees were uprooted, awnings, billboards and fences are down, and the telephone exchange is out of commission.

Head of Witnesses.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., July 13.—Mrs. George Knecht, widow of the baker who was killed here by his helper, Carl Bortum, last week, was released to-day to go to her home in St. Louis, as a witness against her husband's slayer, Mrs. Knecht, confessed her love for Bortum.

REPROACHES HAW, BUT SHIELDS HIM

Wife Says She Has Been Left
Penniless, But Refuses to Testify Against Prisoner.

HIDES IN OFFICE TO ESCAPE BIG CROWD

Petulant as Ever, Repeatedly Ignores Questions of Attorneys and Weeps When Court Rules Against Her.

Probably Be on Stand To-Day.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 13.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, as pretty as ever, petulant and school-girlish, dressed in the familiar blue which she affected so much during the trial of her husband, Harry K. Thaw, for the murder of Stanford White, was on the stand for more than an hour before Justice Mills in the Supreme Court here to-day, subpoenaed by the State in its fight to keep Thaw in the Asylum for the Criminal Insane at Matteawan.

But for the absence of the dainty Elton collar, which Mrs. Thaw wore so much during both of the murder trials, she appeared to-day much the same as when Jerome was trying to send her husband to get her to chair. Thaw, though called by the State in an endeavor to prove Harry Thaw irrational, the testimony that Roger Clarke, the deputy-general, drew from her lips to-day created rather a favorable impression for the prisoner.

She was excused from the stand shortly after 4 o'clock, but was subpoenaed by the State, and will probably appear again to-morrow.

Refused to Answer.

Upon the ultimate outcome of Evelyn Thaw's testimony the State's fight largely rests. Mr. Clarke tried hard to-day to get her to admit that she had threatened her life when she visited him on one occasion after his commitment to Matteawan. But, turning appealingly to the court, she repeatedly refused to answer his questions, and after a clash between Justice Mills and her, she would hold the conversation in which the threat is supposed to have been made a confidential one between husband and wife, and therefore privileged until the State presented proof to show that Daniel J. Reilly, the New York lawyer, who was present at the time, was not then acting as counsel for both Mr. and Mrs. Thaw. She was excused after identifying a number of papers in her husband's handwriting.

Aside from Evelyn Thaw's appearance, which was the scene of the day, the testimony was much like that of yesterday—statements of witnesses called by Thaw's counsel, all of whom spoke of his apparent soundness of mind.

Pursued by Crowd.

Therapeutic sessions in Mrs. Thaw was just as intense as when she appeared daily at the Criminal Courts building. When she left the stand such a crowd followed her that she had to take refuge in the district attorney's office.

On the stand she was reluctant to answer the questions of the court, but she was instructed to do so a number of times by the court. The tears came to her eyes once when Justice Mills ruled against her and she turned to him and said petulantly:

"I guess I will have to obey, for I cannot afford to contest proceedings in this jail. My husband is not paying me anything now, and I have not enough money to hire counsel."

Perhaps the most favorable bit of testimony for Thaw to-day was that of Frank Toomey, his bodyguard for five or six months at Matteawan. He said the prisoner had exhibited no irrational tendencies during that time.

Attorneys Engaged.

The State's representatives announced to-day that they had retained Dr. Austin Flint and Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald, who, with Dr. Amos B. Baker, of Matteawan, will argue up the Commonwealth's trio of alienists.

The mental examination to test Thaw's sanity is to be conducted in open court by the lawyers, prompted by the experts.

SHAH MAY LOSE THRONE

Constitutionalist Forces Enter Tehran and May Depose Persian Ruler.

TEHRAN, PERSIA, July 13.—Recent events in Persia, the constitutionalists, are being repeated in Persia. The constitutionalists, who entered the city, which they entered this morning without encountering much resistance.

While Sardar and Splanader, the leaders in the movement, concentrated the attention of the royalists by demonstrations to the west, a strong body of nationalists and constitutionalists made their way around to the north, from which point the capture of the capital was not difficult. The royalists, who were marching in, were disarmed and the invaders marched in. The royalists are badly situated to make further resistance.

The strictest discipline is being maintained by the nationalists. Their leader, in a note to the Russian and British legations, demands that they should not be allowed to enter the city, and that nothing is demanded from the Shah but a real constitution.

Splanader already has summoned the members of the Majlis to witness the opening of Parliament.

The invaders lost only one man while making their entry into the city. The loss to the royalists is unknown, but cannot be heavy.

No Sympathy for Him.

LONDON, July 13.—There is little sympathy in England for the Shah, who, according to a report, stands a good chance of losing his throne. Great Britain, in conjunction with Russia, consistently urged him to reestablish the constitution, the failure to do which has placed him in his present uncomfortable position.

Twenty More Georgia Colonels.

ATLANTA, GA., July 13.—By a stroke of the pen the number of Georgia colonels on the Governor's staff is to be increased from thirty to fifty, under the provisions of a bill favorably reported to the Senate to-day.

WOMEN-HATER, BUT HE MARRIED 18

Disappointed in Early Love,
Madson Made Ample
Amends in Later Life.

HAD TEN ON STRING IN PORTLAND AT ONE TIME

On Way to Prison Confesses
That He Is Mysterious Swindler
Who Has More Wives Than
He Can Remember Off-
Hand—Got Money
and Jewels.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., July 13.—Christian C. Johnson, sentenced yesterday at San Jose to seven years in the penitentiary for bigamy, is reported to have confessed that he is the mysterious "John Madson" wanted in many parts of the country for matrimonial ventures and systematic swindling of a number of women under promise of marriage.

Johnson's alleged confession, however, is full of inconsistencies greatly at variance with statements he has made since his arrest in this city last week. He declares that he has been married to twelve women, that he cannot count them off-hand.

The Business of Making Love.

"In 1906," he says, "I quit my business of buying horses, and from that day to this time I have been making my living by marrying and making love to women, getting their money and then deserting them."

One of his most amazing feats, according to his own confession, was making love to ten women at one time in Portland, Ore. While he admits that he got money from most of them, and that his marriages were not of a get-rich-quick system, Johnson declares that in every instance he spent the money he received upon the victim herself.

Johnson says he was born in Germany, and, coming to this country in the late '80s, secured a job with the United States army buying horses for the 7th on commission.

This took him all over the country. At first, according to his story, he was a woman-hater because he had been separated from a sweetheart in Germany, who died later. He married first of his many wives in Springfield, Mass., in 1903. She was Mrs. Mary Brown.

Scarcely Remembers Names.

"I married only one woman under the name of John Madson," Johnson declared. "Her name was Jones—if I remember rightly. A few years ago I got sick from her because she said she loved me. I could have got $50,000."

From most of the women, Johnson says, he obtained money or jewelry or both. Johnson left to-day, in custody of a deputy sheriff, for San Quentin prison, where he is to serve the seven years.

Eighteen women, whom Johnson married seven are from California, four from Missouri, two from Oregon and one each from Kansas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Illinois and Massachusetts.

The woman from Tennessee was Mrs. Bessie King, of Memphis, and the one from Arkansas, Mrs. Birdie King, of Hot Springs.

ALPACA COATS FOR JURYMEN

Court Orders Supply and Sends Bill to County Treasury.

BOSTON, MASS., July 13.—Alpaca coats for jurymen were introduced in the Superior Criminal Court to-day by order of Judge R. O. Harris. The court stated that he desired the jury-men to be comfortable during the hot weather, and that he had ordered the coats, the cost to be borne by the county treasury.

If there should be any derrier to the step, he added, he would pay the bill himself.

TURN SHUBERTS DOWN

Southern Theatrical Managers Afraid to Risk Break With Trust.

ATLANTA, GA., July 13.—The Southern Theatrical Managers' Association decided to-day not to permit any of the Shubert or independent attractions to play in the houses under their control. The Shuberts had asked that their attractions be booked. The Southern managers felt that they were not strong enough to take a break with the Shuberts and Brainerd forces, known to some as the trust.

The old officers were re-elected: J. H. Wells, of Richmond and Atlanta, president; Chas. Scott, of Lexington, Ky., vice-president; E. L. Cardozo, of Atlanta, treasurer; and H. B. Degive, of Atlanta, secretary.

TO DASH ACROSS CHANNEL TO-DAY

Daring French Aviator Will Try to Reach England in Monoplane.

WRIGHTS UNABLE TO MANIPULATE MACHINE

Small Field and Contrary Wind
Responsible for Failure of Yesterday's Attempt—Zeppelin
Arranging for Airship Passenger Lines—Long and High Flight in France.

ALAIS, July 13.—Herbert Latham, the French aviator, who is waiting here for favorable weather conditions to attempt to reach England in his monoplane, made a splendid fifteen-minute trial flight this morning. In coming down, however, the wheels of his monoplane were slightly damaged by contact with the earth.

Latham completed repairs on his machine to-night, and contemplates taking advantage of the improved weather to make a dash across the channel to-morrow. Instructions have been given to the torpedo-boat destroyer Harpen and the tug Calaisien to be in readiness at 5 A. M.

Wrights Have Poor Success.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—Corville Wright to-day made two unsuccessful attempts to manoeuvre his aeroplane in the air at Fort Myer. The small area of the field and the unfavorable direction of the wind were largely responsible for the failure of the flights attempted.

The machine rose from the ground on both occasions, but the aviator was obliged to make the turn at the end of the drill field before the "flying speed" had been attained. Greater speed is required for making turns than for straightaway flights. During the last attempt a cross-rod connecting the two skids was broken.

On the first trial the machine rose a little more than ten feet, and on the second a height of about twenty feet was attained. The German ambassador, several Congressmen and other distinguished persons were present at Fort Myer to witness the expected flights.

A new aeroplane of the monoplane type, embodying several novel features, is being built in Washington by John H. Smidley, of Bridgeport, Conn. The inventor intends to bid for the contract of a machine in the event that the Signal Corps proposes new specifications.

Curtiss Files on Long Island.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Glenn H. Curtiss, in the aeroplane he recently sold to the New York Aero Club, made three flights just before dark this evening near Mineola, L. I. Two of the flights, the first and third, were short, but in the second he remained in the air two minutes and thirty seconds, going in a great circle at the rate of about forty miles an hour for a total distance of approximately one and two-thirds miles.

Curtiss hopes to try for the Scientific American Cup with flights on Long Island to-morrow.

Makes 25-Mile Trip.

ORLEANS, FRANCE, July 13.—M. Blier made a long landing on the Cheville to-day, having covered the twenty-five miles from Etampes in fifty-six minutes ten seconds elapsed time. This includes a stop of eleven minutes near Toury to examine his aeroplane. The aviator came down at the feet of the official timers. His descent, in the rain and the pelt of his machine sustained slight damage in the manoeuvre. The average altitude for the trip was 100 feet. The time from the start of the flight from Etampes was six hours, and as there was no ruling against making a landing, M. Blier won the prize of $800 offered by the French Aero Club.

At Ship Passenger Line.

BERLIN, July 13.—Count Zeppelin is at present in Berlin negotiating with the Prussian railroad administration for a working arrangement between the airship and the passenger lines and the railroads by which railroad sheds are to be enlarged to serve as shelters for airships.

DAY ENDS WITH PARADE

Knights Elect William Beatty Imperial Prince.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 13.—With a torchlight parade which took forty-five minutes to pass a given point, the second day's proceedings of the ninth biennial convention of the Imperial Palace, Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan, closed to-day in a spectacular manner. The parade was featured in the presence of many marching clubs and drum corps from distant States. After the parade a costume ball was given at the Battery Park Hotel.

At the business session this afternoon the rules were suspended, and William Beatty, of Toledo, O., was elected Imperial Prince of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan, by acclamation. The other national officers will be elected in regular order at to-morrow morning's session. Toledo was chosen as the convention city for 1911.

To Wipe Negro Town Off Map.

OXFORD, ALA., July 13.—Objection to the existence of Hobson City, the only exclusive negro town in the United States, the authorities of Oxford have prepared a bill which they hope to have passed, and which will destroy the autonomy of the negro town, and the consequent falling off of the receipts, the Mexican government has decided that retrenchment steps are to be taken.

To Make Test Case.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., July 13.—The case of the United States against H. F. Barshill, recently indicted for keeping laborers on levee construction work without pay, was set for trial to-day in the United States District Court here to-day. A new bill will be drawn up for the purpose of making a test case.

Express Companies in Merger.

ROMANCE IN PRISON

Young Woman Refused to Escape Because Convict Lover Could Not Go.

FRANKFORT, KY., July 13.—Eighting the guards, Dacey Gilpin, an eighteen-year-old convict of Pulaski county, scaled the walls of the penitentiary here at an early hour this morning to hasten to the bedside of her lover, Ed. Barker, who is confined in his mountain home. The girl received the letter from him yesterday, and she and her sister, Owen Gilpin, aged eighteen years, her cousin, Martha Cole, and Martha Lewis formed a plot to overpower the cell matron, Mrs. A. O. Martin, when she checked the prisoners and make a dash for liberty. Owen Gilpin, however, failed to act with her sister and others when the time arrived for the execution of the plot. It is a story of romance belonging to Bill Williams—and refused to leave the penitentiary. The girl said that she and Barker were in the guilt of the crime with which he had been convicted, and that she was to be married to him on the Monday morning following the Sunday night on which she and her sister were arrested. When Barker learned of their trouble, he declared he could not be separated from her, and that in order that he could be sent to prison, where he might see his sweetheart, confessed that he, too, was guilty of the robbery.

Barker, who is now in the cell, occasionally peep out the window and watch her in the yard.

When Owen Gilpin refused to leave her sister, she did not leave during the blinding rainstorm. She leaped from it, thirty feet below, and was so badly injured that she could not go far. She had a fractured skull, and in this way was discovered.

EVACUATION OF CRETE

Troops Will Be Withdrawn, But Warships Will Be on Guard.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 13.—The diplomatic representative here of Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy to-day presented an identical note to the Porte concerning the evacuation of the island of Crete by the international troops on July 27. The note was read after the usual manner, the heated public feeling in Constantinople is inopportune for the discussion of the Turkish proposal relative to the future of the island, but as each protecting power is to station a warship in Suda Bay, the supreme rights of Turkey will not be affected by the withdrawal of the troops.

ROTHSCHILD KILLS HIMSELF

Son of Head of Austrian Branch of House Committee Succeeded.

VIENNA, July 13.—Baron Oskar Rothschild, youngest son of Albert Rothschild, head of the Austrian branch of the house, died suddenly in his father's palace in this city last night. He committed suicide by shooting because of an unfortunate love affair. Baron Oskar was twenty-one years old. He returned to Austria recently after eight months of travel, during which he visited the United States.
